

A Summary of The Hume Center

The Hume Center is a Community Mental Health Center that strives to create an environment of psychological well-being for our work community and for the community we serve, with special consideration for the under and un-served, through practicing an enabling consultation process. We believe in serving our community through strengthening existing and developing new resources; providing the highest caliber of culturally sensitive behavioral health services, professional training, and clinical research; and focusing on consistent improvement through outcomes, data-based quality assurance, and program evaluation.

History of our Training Program

The Hume Center was founded as an Outpatient clinic with one program in 1993. Founder, R.K. Janmeja “Meji” Singh’s practice of an enabling model of supervision and training is evidenced by the fact that every one of the programs was developed by a trainee who was passionate about meeting an unmet need in the community with an ultimate motive of reducing human suffering. Now, the Center employees, 14 licensed psychologists and serves over 3,000 people annually in about 22 languages.

Doctoral Intern Didactic Seminar

This weekly seminar is facilitated by the Director of Training and our Training Faculty of Licensed Clinicians. The seminar is the centerpiece to our Doctoral Intern Training Program. The Training Faculty invite internal and external experts to co-facilitate topics on occasion so that the Doctoral Interns are learning from a variety of professionals who are experts in the subject matter.

Transportation

You will need to provide your own transportation, as every program may require local travel. You will be reimbursed for approved work-related mileage.

The Five Clinics of The Hume Center

*Doctoral Intern Wages

Doctoral Interns start off at $28.70/hour as a Mental Health Specialist until they have become registered with the California Board of Psychology as Registered Psychological Associates and waived with the State of California as Waivered Psychologists. Once registered and waived, their pay is increased to $30.14/hour. Therefore, if the Doctoral Intern achieves these statuses by the first day of the Internship, their estimated annual pay would be approximately $62,691.00, depending on actual hours worked. Fluency in a qualifying language adds another 5% to their hourly rate. Doctoral Interns will begin working on onboarding and credentialing immediately upon matching with the Hume Center.

APPIC Training Tracks

Our APPIC training track are each attached to one or two clinics. Doctoral Interns are placed in the clinic they match with and provide services within the programs in those clinics. Doctoral Interns should anticipate providing approximately 19 hours/week of direct service.

Concord Clinic (153411)

Doctoral Interns assigned to the Concord Clinic will work mainly with adults. They will perform Intensive Outpatient and Outpatient services. Doctoral Interns in our Listen and Be Heard (LABH) Program work as a team to provide services to adults diagnosed with severe mental illness. LABH is an outpatient day treatment program, three days a week, four hours a day, to stabilize clients who have been discharged from a hospital and to prevent hospitalization of clients who manifest the signs of decompensation. LABH services include: group and individual psychotherapy, psychoeducation, crisis phone line coverage, and transitional services. Doctoral Interns at this site also program provide weekly outpatient psychotherapy services to adults with moderate to severe mental illness. These services include: Individual, couples, family, and group psychotherapy. Doctoral Interns at this site collaborate with our psychiatry and care coordination teams.

Alameda County Clinics (153412)

Doctoral Interns matched to the Alameda County Tracks will be assigned to one or both of our clinics in Fremont and Pleasanton.

Those assigned to the Fremont Clinic will work with children and adults. They will provide psychotherapy services for early childhood (0-6), children, youth, and adults, including individual, couples, group, and family services. These services will be offered in the clinic, in schools, in the home, and in the community and there will be regular collaboration with care coordinators, family members, psychiatric prescribers, primary care, social workers, and family partners. Presenting problems vary and are considered moderate to severe psychiatric conditions. The goal of 0-6 services is to reduce the incidence and prevalence of abuse, neglect, developmental delays, and emotional and behavioral disorders in children. Doctoral Interns will also acquire knowledge, skills, and experience providing mental health consultation services to individuals and groups at human services agencies, community based organizations, and community leaders; and providing culturally sensitive early intervention mental health services.

Doctoral Interns assigned to the Pleasanton Clinic will work on school sites with the school aged population (5-24) and their primary and secondary caregivers (e.g., parents, school staff, administrators). They provide Prevention, Early Intervention, Mental Health Consultation, Groups, Outreach, and Medi-Cal Treatment Services. They will also provide Outpatient Services with individuals, families, couples, and groups, and their clients will range in age from infancy to the end of life. Services are focused on reducing the impact of behavioral health issues on the well-being of the population in order to strengthen the individual's existing community resources and relationships.

Antioch Clinic (153413)

Doctoral Interns matched to this track will be assigned to our Antioch Clinic to work in Community Support Program (CSP) East and the Antioch Outpatient Program. CSP East is a multidisciplinary treatment team that provides psychiatry, psychotherapy, housing support, community linkage, peer services, family services, substance use services, vocational support, and case management services to clients diagnosed with a persistent mental illness and have a history of psychiatric hospitalization sometimes combined with homelessness, justice system involvement, and/or substance abuse. The team provides "wraparound" services to break the cycle of crises. They will provide psychotherapy in the office and the client's natural settings and are supported by a team of care coordinators. They will provide outpatient psychotherapy services to adults with moderate to severe mental illness. These services include individual, couples, family, and group psychotherapy.

Richmond Clinic (153415)

Doctoral Interns assigned to Richmond will be assigned to Community Support Program (CSP) West and Richmond Outpatient Services. CSP West is a multidisciplinary treatment team that provides psychiatry, psychotherapy, housing support, community linkage, peer services, family services, substance use services, vocational support, and case management services to clients diagnosed with a persistent mental illness and have a history of psychiatric hospitalization sometimes combined with homelessness, justice system involvement, and/or substance abuse. The team provides "wraparound" services to break the cycle of crises. Doctoral Interns provide psychotherapy in the office and in the client's natural settings in the community and are supported by a team of care coordinators. Doctoral Interns at this site also program provide weekly outpatient psychotherapy services to adults with moderate to severe mental illness. These services include: Individual, couples, family, and group psychotherapy.
